

Thank you for registering for OPEX West. We are excited to have you as one of our exhibitors, showcasing the best our industry has to offer. As part of the OPEX experience, we want to help spread the word about your company and let everyone know what you're about. Each year, we do this by promoting our exhibitors on the OPEX web site, social media, and through email newsletters.

To help us spread the buzz on your company, we've created a simple marketing questionnaire to give our team the information they need to promote you and let OPEX West attendees know you're going to be there. We encourage you to fill this in and send us as much content as you'd like to feature. We want your show to be a success!

Business Name: _____

Headquarter Location: _____

Point of contact (This will be displayed to customers): _____

Company Bio (Tell us what you do and what your company is about. What do you want to say to people visiting OPEX West?):

Feature Products (Tell us about any products or services you want to highlight):

Would you be interested in speaking or conducting product demonstrations/training at OPEX? If so, tell us more about what you will be showcasing/covering:

Email Feature (We try to feature all exhibitors in one of our weekly email newsletters. Tell us about anything you'd like to say in the newsletter. This can be about products, services, awards, or just about what makes you awesome)

We feature all exhibitors in our social media. Email any high resolution photos you would like to share, along with captions and info, to Alyssa at alyssa.chowanetz@911supply.ca.